DETAILED ACTION

Claim Rejections - 35 USC § 102

1. The following is a quotation of the appropriate paragraphs of 35 U.S.C. 102 that form the basis for the rejections under this section made in this Office action:

A person shall be entitled to a patent unless –

(e) the invention was described in (1) an application for patent, published under section 122(b), by another filed in the United States before the invention by the applicant for patent or (2) a patent granted on an application for patent by another filed in the United States before the invention by the applicant for patent, except that an international application filed under the treaty defined in section 351(a) shall have the effects for purposes of this subsection of an application filed in the United States only if the international application designated the United States and was published under Article 21(2) of such treaty in the English language.

2. Claims 1-15, 19-20, 28, 30-34 are rejected under 35 U.S.C. 102(e) as being anticipated by Murooka et al PG-PUB 2003/0202471.

Re Claims 1, 28, fig. 2 teaches a Periodic Reading part 33 (obtaining control information) coupled to Storing Part 35 (database, status information) for storing information relating Comparing Part 71 (See fig. 10); 71 compares the network characteristics (data transmission information) to determine traffic quality [0063] wherein the comparison is displayed, See fig. 17.

Re Claims 2, 30, refer to Claim 1, wherein fig. 17 shows the observation of changes in each periodic intervals (change in control information) correlated by the Traffic Quality Measurement Apparatus 60 of fig. 7.

Re Claim 3, See fig. 17.

Re Claims 4, 31, refer to Claim 1, wherein traffic quality is measured by correlating each time interval with the traffic characteristic.

Re Claim 5, refer to Claim 1, wherein this information is stored in Storing Part 35.

Re Claims 6, 10, 11, refer to Claim 1, fig. 17 discloses the causal effect of network characteristic on each time interval.

Re Claim 7, refer to Claim 1.

Re Claim 8, refer to Claim 1, wherein 33 is periodic time interval (timestamp).

Re Claim 9, refer to Claim 1, storing the information in 33 is stored as a record.

Re Claims 12, 13, refer to Claim 1, wherein the network characteristic based on user.

Re Claim 14, refer to Claim 1, wherein fig. 13 teaches FLOW ID (one network route) associated with source address.

Re Claims 15, 32-34, refer to Claim 1, Fig. 17 discloses resources in a network between apparatus A and B (one or more entities; distributed in a communication network; forwarding nodes).

Re Claims 19, 20, refer to Claim 1, wherein fig. 18 teaches the adjustment of the streaming distribution using the traffic quality measurement.

Re Claim 21, refer to Claim 1, wherein adjustment made by the traffic quality measurement is based on the comparison/correlation.

Re Claim 22, refer to Claim 1, wherein the monitoring function is passive.

Claim Rejections - 35 USC § 103

3. The following is a quotation of 35 U.S.C. 103(a) which forms the basis for all obviousness rejections set forth in this Office action:

(a) A patent may not be obtained though the invention is not identically disclosed or described as set forth in section 102 of this title, if the differences between the subject matter sought to be patented and the prior art are such that the subject matter as a whole would have been obvious at the time the invention was made to a person having ordinary skill in the art to which said subject matter pertains. Patentability shall not be negated by the manner in which the invention was made.

4. Claims 16-18, 23-27, are rejected under 35 U.S.C. 103(a) as being unpatentable over Murooka et al PG-PUB 2003/0202471 in view of Ogielski et al PG-PUB 2004/0221296.

Re Claims 16-18, Murooka et al fails to explicitly teach the "control information" includes routing information. However Ogielski et al teaches a database for updating routing information for monitoring the condition of the network [0044]. One skilled in the art would have been motivated to modify Murooka et al to include updating routing information of Ogielski to determine the network performance. Therefore, it would have been obvious to one skilled to combine the references.

Re Claims 23-27, refer to Claim 16, wherein the Link state information is transmitted over the network.

Response to Arguments

5. Applicant's arguments with respect to claims 1-28, 30-34 have been considered but are moot in view of the new ground(s) of rejection.

Conclusion

6. THIS ACTION IS MADE FINAL. Applicant is reminded of the extension of time policy as set forth in 37 CFR 1.136(a).

A shortened statutory period for reply to this final action is set to expire THREE MONTHS from the mailing date of this action. In the event a first reply is filed within TWO MONTHS of the mailing date of this final action and the advisory action is not mailed until after the end of the THREE-MONTH shortened statutory period, then the shortened statutory period will expire on the date the advisory action is mailed, and any extension fee pursuant to 37 CFR 1.136(a) will be calculated from the mailing date of the advisory action. In no event, however, will the statutory period for reply expire later than SIX MONTHS from the mailing date of this final action.
